ANGOLA
POSTAL HISTORY

PRESTAMP MAIL

HISTORY.   Mail was carried by private individuals, couriers, ship captains and Government officials prior to the development of a postal service. With the introduction of Government Postal Services other forms of mail carriage was replaced. The Government Postal Services initially used a Town Postal Mark and Rate marks. These were later replaced with postage stamps, although the town marks were initially used to cancel the newly introduced stamps.